I look forward to her future achievements. Johanna Orozco is a heroin among us, and our community will continue to support her as she recovers.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honor and gratitude of Johanna Orozco, whose remarkable story and activism will forever have an impact on our community. May her courage continue to serve as an inspiration for us all.

HONORING LEE ANGELICH

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 19, 2008

Mr. RADANOVICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today, along with Congressman COSTA, to congratulate Lee Angelich upon his induction into the Fresno Athletic Hall of Fame. Mr. Angelich will be honored at the 50th anniversary enshrinement dinner of the Fresno Athletic Hall of Fame on Thursday, November 6, 2008.

Lee Angelich, the youngest of five boys, was born to a Serbian immigrant family and starred in track and field in high school and college. Mr. Angelich qualified for the State Finals his senior year at Shasta High School. In his two years at Sacramento Junior College, he led the Panthers to league and state titles and in 1941 he led them to a national title. Mr. Angelich placed second in the 120 high hurdles and fifth in the high jump at the national meet. He then went on to the University of California, where in 1943 he won Pacific Coast Conference titles in the 120 high and the 220 low hurdles, and finished fifth and sixth respectively in the same events at the NCAA Championships. In 1943, Mr. Angelich joined the Navy and served as an officer on the U.S.S. Rixey in the Pacific. After the war, he enrolled at California State University Fresno and placed third in the West Coast Relays in the 120 high hurdles.

After completing his education Mr. Angelich began coaching. As a coach he stressed fundamentals, defense and teamwork. He guided boys' teams at Kerman High, Porterville High and Fresno High to eight league championships and an overall record of 255–76 from 1947 to 1963. His Kerman team won the Central Section small schools championship, and his Fresno High teams won forty-eight straight games at home, second best in section history. Under Mr. Angelich, Fresno High won four consecutive North Yosemite League titles (1957–1960). He is one of the rare coaches to win central Section titles in two different sports, as Fresno High captured the boys' track-and-field championship in 1957. He became one of the winningest high school basketball coaches in central section history. Additionally, after turning down a chance to coach Greece's national men's basketball team in 1959, he organized and coached the Libyan national team that participated in the North African Games in 1961.

Madam Speaker, we rise today to commend and congratulate Lee Angelich upon his achievements and induction into the Fresno

Athletic Hall of Fame. I invite my colleagues to join me in wishing Mr. Angelich congratulations on his many accomplishments.

HONORING AMANDA SCOTT

HON. JIM COSTA

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 19, 2008

Mr. COSTA. Madam Speaker, I rise today, along with Congressman RADANOVICH, to congratulate Amanda Scott upon her induction into the Fresno Athletic Hall of Fame. Ms. Scott will be honored at the 50th anniversary enshrinement dinner at the Fresno Athletic Hall of Fame on Thursday, November 6, 2008.

Amanda Scott was born and raised in Clovis, California and graduated from Clovis High School. She went on to attend California State University, Fresno where she pitched for the Lady Bulldogs. In the championship game of the 1998 National Collegiate Athletic Association, NCAA, Softball World Series, Ms. Scott pitched a near perfect game against top-seeded Arizona in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. She led her team to a 1–0 victory over Arizona. She pitched seven innings, allowing three hits and she had six strike outs. At bat, she was three for three. The Bulldogs had captured their first NCAA Division 1 team championship in school history.

Ms. Scott's accolades do not stop there. She was the first four-time first-team All-American for CSU Fresno, she was named number two among CSU Fresno's "Greatest Athletes of the Twentieth Century", two-time Academic All-American, two-time Western Athletic Conference Female Athlete of the Year, member of the NCAA's twenty-fifth anniversary team, winner of an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship and was named "Most Valuable Player" of the 1998 Softball World Series.

Upon graduating from CSU Fresno she was the school's career leader in strikeouts (851), saves (110), Runs Batted In (212) and pitching appearances (155). Her career win-loss record is 106–18 and her batting average was .303 with thirty-one home runs. Her records are amazing, and her career continued to grow. Amanda Scott was at her best in the clutch when she was pitted against the best the sport had to offer; her face was a picture of resolve whether pitching or batting. She was a member of the 1998 U.S. team that won the World Championship and was an alternate on the gold-medal winning 2000 U.S. Olympic team. Ms. Scott starred in the National Pro Fastpitch league, and was named the "World Series Most Valuable Player" for the 2004 champion, the New York Juggernaut. Today, she is an assistant softball coach at the University of Illinois-Chicago and a television sports commentator.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to commend and congratulate Amanda Scott upon her achievements. I invite my colleagues to join me in wishing Ms. Scott many years of continued success.

TRIBUTE TO DR. JAMES CRAWFORD

HON. CAROLYN MCCARTHY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 19, 2008

Mrs. MCCARTHY of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize a talented pathologist, professor, and author, Dr. James Crawford. Dr. Crawford recently moved to Long Island, New York to serve as the Chair of the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at Long Island Jewish Hospital. His commitment to advocating for quality health care and the study of pathology deserves commendation.

Dr. Crawford will be stepping down at the end of December as Chair of the College of American Pathologists' Political Action Committee. Pathologists are laboratory physicians that play a key role in health care by diagnosing and characterizing diseases through examination of biopsies or bodily fluids.

Prior to accepting his new position at Long Island Jewish Hospital, Dr. Crawford served as Chair of the Pathology Department at the University of Florida, College of Medicine. A talented pathology professor, he has served as a faculty member at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Harvard Medical School, as well as the Yale University School of Medicine.

Dr. Crawford is a world expert in hepatic pathology and pathobiology who has served as the Senior Editor of three books, as well as authored over 170 original articles and book chapters. Dr. Crawford has also been an active supporter of early cancer screening tests, especially Pap tests. Through the years, Pap examinations have proven to be the most effective screening test for early detection of cervical cancer in women.

Dr. Crawford received his medical degree and PhD from Duke University. After completing medical school, he completed his Pathology Residency and Gastrointestinal Pathology Fellowship at Brigham and Women's Hospital, as well as a Fellowship in Hepatopathology at the Royal Free Hospital in London.

Although he will be stepping down as Chair of the College of American Pathologist's Political Action Committee, Dr. Crawford will continue to be a strong voice for promoting quality health care in his new position at Long Island Jewish Hospital. I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing this outstanding physician, professor, and author for his strong commitment to pathology and patient care.

IN RECOGNITION OF MAYOR HEATHER FARGO

HON. DORIS O. MATSUI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, November 19, 2008

Ms. MATSUI. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Heather Fargo's twenty years of service to the people of Sacramento as mayor, council member, and community activist. On November 20th, Mayor Fargo, family and friends will gather to recognize her outstanding work, and I ask all my colleagues to join me in honoring one of Sacramento's finest leaders.
